Pottery at its finest

Artist Mary-Lou Pittard at work

THE banks of the Yarra at Warrandyte are perfect for potting around.

That's why the idyllic spot will host the Warrandyte Pottery Expo this weekend.

Fifty Melbourne, interstate and international ceramic artists will be displayed at the 12th annual show, and co-ordinator Jane Annois said this year would celebrate the event's history.

A ceramic seat detailed with mosaic pieces made by children at last year's expo will be the main display piece by the riverside.

The expo runs on February 25 and 26 from 10am-5.30pm. Details: 0422 942 216.

Going, going, gone to help children's hospital

CHARITY begins at home for Donvale's Eugenia Tselepi.

The volunteer for Cancer in Kids Auxiliary at the Royal Children's Hospital will hold an auction in her lounge room this month to raise much-needed funds for sick children.

Selling gifts and homewares, the second Donvale Neighbourhood Charity Auction will carry on the auxiliary's impressive fundraising track record. "Last year's event raised $5000," Ms Tselepi said.

"It was part of $400,000 we raised last year and every cent went to the hospital." The event costs $10, which includes afternoon tea and door prizes.

The auction will take place on Sunday, February 26 from 1-5pm at 19 Berrima Rd, Donvale. Details: cika.org.au
